

FLINDERS QUARTET

YOUR GIFT TO THE NEXT GENERATION

Bequests can transform arts organisations and are a powerful way to share your passion for chamber music with future generations.

Flinders Quartet is committed to cultivating a rich and inclusive musical culture in Australia. We continuously strive to explore and extend the chamber music artform with innovative programming and exceptional performances both in Australia and around the globe. You can play a major part in achieving this vision for the future.

All bequests, no matter how large or small, help to build a strong financial platform from which we can look to the future with confidence.

Leaving a gift to Flinders Quartet in your will (bequest) can take many different forms including:

- A specific amount of money
- A specific portion of your estate
- Assets such as property, shares, or works of art
- The residual assets of an estate – what is left after other gifts and estate costs have been met

For legal advice, please refer to the Public Trustee in your State or Territory.

THE PURPOSE OF YOUR GIFT

Bequest gifts can be placed in the Endowment Fund to ensure future prosperity, or you might like to support a particular Flinders Quartet activity or project. Please talk with us if you would like help deciding what activity or project you would like to support as part of your gift. We recommend that a non-specific bequest be made to the Endowment Fund, providing Flinders Quartet with the flexibility to respond to priorities that may not have been identified at the time the gift instructions were written. We encourage gifts that focus on capacity building.

WORDING OF GIFTS IN WILLS

Every individual's circumstances are unique, and it is important that you consult with your professional advisors for advice on wording of your gift.
